

NEW HOME FOR FIRE FIGHTERS.

ENGINE HOUSE NO. 27.

Engine house No. 27, the latest addition to Detroit's fine fire department, will be put into commission about November 15. The new house is located at the corner of Junction avenue and Rogers street, and will greatly improve the fire service in the western part of the city. The new house is practically ready for business, and within a few days the apparatus, which is already in the city, will be installed. A fine engine and a hose cart will always be at the service of the residents of that district. They will be manned by a crew of fire laddies who have proved their worth to the department.

The crew will be as follows: G. S. Atwood, captain; T. Hanlon, lieutenant; P. McLott, engineer; P. E. Whitbeck, assistant engineer; J. G. Lucas, pipeman; P. J. Brinker, pipeman; W. Duchane, pipeman; A. A. Buckenale, pipeman; F. Bostwick, driver; E. W. Bruckner, hose wagon driver; F. J. Gallagher, cadet; X. Bringard, watchman.
